 - To turn the pages in the magazine, tap/scroll to the left or right.
 - To display the Table of Contents, tap on the list icon (bottom left corner). RBdigital defaults to a “pages” preview display, however you can tap “articles” tab on the top right of the table of contents viewer to see a list of article titles. You can tap on the article title or the page view to jump to a specific article.
 - To zoom in on a page you can double tap on the page itself.
 - Tap on Format to change your viewing settings. From here you can increase and decrease your font size, increase or decrease your brightness, change the background of the pages for easier reading and tap on the “Text to Speech” option.
 - You can click on the third icon on the bottom to switch to TEXT View to focus on the articles (and you may need to scroll down) or tap the icon again to go back to PDF view (as the printed pages would appear).
